Employer Reporting and Remittance Due Dates for 2023

Act 32 of 2008 as amended by Act 150 of 2016 and Act 18 of 2018 requires employers to file a report and remit Local Earned Income Taxes (EIT) to the specified collectors as follows:

For employers reporting quarterly – on or before the last day of the month succeeding the quarter being filed.

For employers reporting monthly – on or before the last day of the month succeeding the month being filed.

LCTCB has adopted the same due dates for filing quarterly Local Services Taxes (LST) returns.

In addition to the language of Act 32 of 2008, the following Pennsylvania statute must be used to interpret the due dates for filing and remittance:

1 Pa.C.S.A. § 1908, § 1908. Computation of time, Currentness

“Whenever the last day of any such period shall fall on Saturday or Sunday or on any day made a legal holiday by the laws of this Commonwealth or of the United States, such day shall be omitted from the computation.”

Based on this statute, employers must file on or before the last day following the month or quarter’s end (as the case may be) unless the last day falls “on Saturday or Sunday” or is a “legal holiday.” If the last day following the month or quarter’s end (as the case may be) falls on a Saturday, a Sunday, or a legal holiday, employers have until the end of the next business day to file.

The chart below indicates the due dates for employer filing and remittance for year 2023.

Any employer who does not report and remit by the due dates will be charged interest and penalty amounts as a late filer.
